	05/05/20 11:41 AM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Construction		1962	4700 42nd Ave SW	Seattle	I am an ARNP essential worker that comes into my office at Jefferson Square 4700 42nd AVE SW, Seattle 98116. The manager of the building maintenance sent out an email in March stating that one of the Janitors tested positive for COVID. They took some measures. But now in the last 3 weeks there have been maintenance men walking around the building without PPE, no masks, no gloves and working on the building inside. Today, one tried to get on the elevator with me and got 1ft in front of me without any PPE. Another day last week there was one of them working right outside my office with no mask and I asked about it and said it wasn't okay with me and he said they aren't provided masks or PPE. It is my understanding that workers on the building need to follow protective guidelines and they aren't. Here is the manager of KIMCO realty for the building, Matthew Barker phone 425-466-0546 email MBarker@kimcreality.com. I have emailed him to let him know my concern twice and ask what they are doing for precautions and no response.	jacqueline@mwpwc.org	Jacqueline Marcell-Koledin	2062347886	Matthew Barker Manager of KIMCO BUILDING MAINTENANCE WORKERS

We have recently this week had 2 positive cases of the virus in our company. No awareness was made to any of us until we started asking questions to the managers. I as well as many others are concerned for our health as the only thing that our company has been doing is wiping areas down with bleach water. I myself have been in contact with the 2 employees who tested positive, and I am concerned about bringing it home to my family, my husband who has asthma and my 2 young kids. 05/08/20 9:46 AM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Construction		a construction company	9040 18th ave SW	Seattle	Construction has resumed at the address noted above. They are building 14 townhomes. The use of PPE is minimal at best from the construction crew. As others are staying at home and not allowed to go back to work, this would be very frustrating to see that rules are not being followed. If these construction crew members end of getting covid, then I suspect all the other businesses will be penalized as a result. How can the use of PPE be monitored at these sites? As an essential healthcare workers, it is very frustrating to see this disregard for the governors orders.	lainey127@hotmail.com	Elaine Henriksen	2063346804.0000	unk

No sneeze guard or partition at checkout, employees are not wearing masks, no hand sanitizer provided for customers or bathroom to wash hands. They are allowing the use of reusable bags and there is not tape or any kind of signs or markers on the floor to remind people what six feet looks like. I felt incredibly unsafe in this establishment and am also worried that the employees are not being properly protected or educated about covid-19 and the importance/necessity for social distancing and more often than usual sanitizing countertops and beer cooler handles. This is a bar and mini mart/specialty beer shop and there is usually just one employee behind the counter which doesn't allow for the cooler handles etc to be cleaned frequently enough, too many customers at a time. It appears most every other essential business selling Grocery/food/drink etc is utilizing tape on the floor/signs and a partition between customers and essential workers.

This is not essential manufacturing. It's custom cabinets for homes and they are not completing existing work, they are business as usual, requesting employees work overtime to meet deadlines. They have coerced all employees, who are union represented to return to work or lose their unemployment. Initially union said it's non essential manufacturing and employees weren't to go back until PHASE 2, now the union is telling employees to return asap or lose unemployment benefits?? How does a business just get to become essential? I work for an essential company and have had to adhere to temp checks, sign ins, and given essential paperwork. ACC has a manager taking temps and saying if you register high to go outside in the cold until it comes down. Manager Dean also jokes about having been around someone that became COVID positive back in January out drinking at a bar. The owner, Will, has told his employees the governor's office contacted them and said they are essential now, but now that employees are reporting to work no such paperwork exists. And they refused to give essential paperwork for employees to keep in their car to prove it, should need be. If they are supposed to be open, fine, but as an essential employee who is obligated to follow the rules of going to work and possibly exposing myself, why are the people who are required to stay home not having to comply? Why should we essential people have to? This is not right, and One of the dishwashers was exposed to covid-19 and none of the employees were informed. They claim the dishwasher and her daughter are in good health even though the daughter claimed she can't "breathe".	Will

Then when I got inside on my 2nd day I am in front of a kenomade stand with pxx glass and a lady behind it using a infrared thermometer to check if you have a temp. But she is not checking everyone that walks in just some people in my opinion. No one was there taking temps the day before or the week before I did my Orientation. Then later on that evening for 2nd shift No one is there taking temps I found that very alarming. On my way in the warehouse where I was assigned NO ONE IS WEARING A FACE MASK!! (Pictures available) The supervisor and young employees (20-30 yr. olds) are seemingly oblivious to the pandemic, operating their store with no regard for distance or aerosol factors where droplets can remain 3 hours in the air. There are some employees – and some customers – who have an immune deficiency. The action of a majority of AT&T store employees make the immunity-vulnerable employee's situation twice as serious, because they are close to coworkers in a fairly enclosed situation all day long and have no immune system to fight off the virus. It is clear, to stop contagion, that ALL WORKERS MUST WEAR MASKS, ESPECIALLY AT RISK EMPLOYEES. It is DIFFICULT for the young to understand this pandemic. Many don't even comply with STAY HOME order. They could go home and socialize at a private party, again bringing virus to employees. For everyone's protection Enforcement must take place. We MUST PROTECT AT RISK EMPLOYEES AND CUSTOMERS. THEY MUST WEAR MASKS. Also, the employees at AT&T stores are young. Distancing is not being followed at all, and is probably not happening nationwide with the young employees. 04/09/20 5:29 PM		Other Agency	Essential business not follow	Health-related business	Covid19 Avalon health Care	Avalon health Care	1310 NW deane street Pullman	The suspected violation is not showing above although I like to report my concern due to an Avalon healthcare driver today April 9th 2020 at 2:03 p.m. who was taking an elder client to Dismores Iga in Pullman Washington. The driver appeared to be sick red in the face coughing blowing his nose on a white cloth handkerchief. The driver and the elder passenger were both wearing black masks although when the passenger got out of the gray van to go into dissmore's the driver took off his mask to blow his nose was also noticed coughing a few times and seemed like he may be running a fever he also had red cheeks and ears. This driver was wearing a long sleeve maroon shirt and had hick black hair and black mustache. I did not witness the driver not once sanitize his hands after blowing his nose or coughing into his hand. To me this is a big concern being this is the healthcare field and the driver was in no way shape or form taking the proper precautions and this older gentleman he had given a ride to could be exposed along with everybody else at Avalon health Care. Crews of 4-5 men were working really close to each other. Absolutely none of them seemed to really care for the residents safety. Also some crews were starting new houses which I didn't think was "Essential" right now until phase 2. The list goes on and on. See it for yourself! If you drive through there I bet you will find at least 10+ violations. I really hate to be that person but I have friends and family who live really close to there and I don't want them to be at risk even more than they already are. What they are doing is selfish and dangerous.

Maybe it was so early in the orders of social distancing and perhaps they made changes from there but it seemed odd to be brought in secretly and I felt distracted by being worried I was exposing others or myself. I thought they would have cancelled my appointment but when they didn't I showed up and felt uncomfortable telling them at the time that I wanted to cancel because I did not want to be fined for cancelling the day of my appointment. There are 3-6 workers in the store and on a regular basis 10-15 customers are in the store at a time, some only a foot from each other huddled around the online stand. One of my managers, Jacob, allowed two customers to eat in the store. I am a cashier and have consistently inquired about having a sneeze guard at the cash desk and putting the card swiper on the other side so customers can swipe card themselves. Both of these requests are consistently shut down by the owner. I am a foot and a half away from customers I am helping and I do not feel safe. The majority of our orders are online so I do not feel there is a need for us to still have in-person customers, especially when we come so close to them. One of the cashiers/clerks coughed a mucousy cough right in my face two weeks ago and seemed to think it was funny. It was very upsetting. Their checkstands do not provide enough protection with the plexi glass. Although Chuck's website states they follow disinfect and social distancing protocols, they don't. I have been in the store 6 times in the last 2 weeks. Employees don't wear masks, do not disinfect at each transaction, and do not follow social distancing with each other. When I expressed my concerns to the store manager, he called me a liar and said I could go shop somewhere else. They are a family run business and apparently don't feel the need to comply with health regulations. Their attitude is that employees haven't become sick and don't seem to know that they could be contagious with the virus, spreading it to hundreds of customers every day they are open. 05/10/20 2:50 PM	No Agency	No Agency	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Other	Hardware/home and garden	Country Farm and Garden	6 W Washington Avenue	Yakima	When I went in today to get some plants, I observed that none of the employees were wearing PPE of any type, and no one was counting customers at the door, or doing any type of regulation for customer traffic. There were easily over 50 people in the store (at around 12:50), not counting the customers outside in the greenhouse area, and at the front of the entrance. People, including employees, were not observing the 6ft social distancing rule and I was packed into a line with a bunch of other people, less than a foot apart. Although they have red tape on the floor for customers to stand apart from one another at the register, no one is regulating this, at all, anywhere in that store. Employees and customers alike stood less than a foot away from me throughout my entire visit, even with me trying to avoid them all by going to another aisle, etc. This presents a huge risk to the people of Yakima. If this store is to remain open to the public as an "essential store," they need to be following the rules to keep us all safe. Needless to say, I will not be shopping there again.

They have not been following the six feet apart distancing. Supervisors are called out to share a headset with an employee when on phone calls to customers several times per hour. Also, new employees were trained while sitting only 12 inches from each other. The company made up their own cleaning wipes using only alcohol and no bleach. Also, swapping of seats is a constant between supervisors and employees while handing over their headsets, which are also shared between them. Desks are filthy and are not being disinfected between old and new employees, and the turnover is very high. Gathering of employees touching each other is a daily thing.		Anonymous

04/10/20 11:45 AM	No Agency	No Agency	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Restaurant or food service business		domino pizza	20030 Ballinger Way NE	Shoreline	Domino's pizza is a company that has been allowed to stay open, despite that the staff-kitchen workers, drivers and cleaners are in a small open area, non following social distancing, a friend who works there told me. He also takes pizza and delivers it to well over 100 locations, where people can touch the bag he puts it on, and then he is supposed to bring the bag back and reuse-(they are claiming they disinfect, but it is doubtful as he doesn't see his occurring) and what driver would spend time disinfecting if he is being pushed to get out there. He delivers to assisted living homes as well as all over the area. I don't believe pizza delivery is essential. If anything, people who are in need of food delivery to their home should not be getting it from a place that is not able to realistically social distance. I urge you to consider shutting down this company and others like this, I am a sole proprietor and I am taking a major hit on my business and have to try and get loans to help me survive. Dominos is essentially able to spread covid-19 in a massive way that as a community and country we are working against. Please do something to ensure everyone's safety. I have worked in 6 hospitals and the Seattle Cancer Care Alliance. They have invited over 30 ppl many of which are patient care staff. They are hosting this in a small space with no social distancing. Office staff has been observed having potlucks with no safety precautions. Everyone from executive director to reception partake. It is concerning that leaders of a health care business have no regard for social distancing, especially when many jobs can be done remotely but are not as ppl prefer going to work. The office staff do not follow social distancing business having potlucks, sharing offices, mingling in offices all while not wearing masks. There is over 10ppl in the office participating in these activities. Many staff can work from home but they do not because "the do not want to stay home". This means one customer for every 120 square feet. Lakeway Fred Meyer's square footage is so high that the number of customers allowed in at a time will be around 1,200. They hardly ever hit this number under normal circumstances. This is their way of "limiting" customers without actually limiting. This is still too many people shopping in a store at once. They are letting crowds of 100+ customers in the store at once with customers being well under 6ft apart. They aren't supplying PPE equipment for the employees and are threatening termination if they aren't comfortable enough to work under the conditions. The argument presented is that the store is large enough to accommodate more people than other stores, but when everyone needs meat, produce, and sanitary products, people form large groups in those departments.	saraemario@comcast.net	Sara Marlo	3606008437

Social distancing is not being followed, there are many more customers than normal and everyone is crowded together because management has not set up any rules for the store. Employees are sharing that colleagues have been going home sick with covid-19 symptoms and management is not following proper sanitation policies. These two stores need to regulate customers and ensure all social distancing and sanitation procedures are being followed. These two stores are extremely dangerous with reports of sick employees, zero social distancing and sanitation procedures not being implemented. Someone needs to shut these stores down and implement proper sanitation and set up of social distancing guidelines before more employees and guests report getting sick after visiting either location. Locals are discussing starting a petition to boycott the stores in hopes of getting someone's attention who will enforce proper guidelines during covid-19. Kent	I went to get groceries today at the Fred Meyer near me, which I have been to many times. I have stayed at home since before official quarantine but went today for groceries since I had to go pick up a prescription anyway. I was shocked. 6 foot distancing was not enforced. I saw groups of people standing together or near each other in aisles. Including 3 employees. I am not referring to families, I am talking about people who were not caring about being near each other. The atmosphere was scary. I became so uncomfortable with what I was seeing and dismayed at the lack of safety that I did not finish getting my shopping items and went to check out. While the store had put in signs on the floor where to stand to stay apart in line, I think I was the only one doing it. Nothing was said to enforce this. It almost seemed like people were there getting ready to party. I am not prone to anxiety but I felt like I was scared for my life. In contrast, Trader Joe's in Kent was doing an excellent job. I wrote a google review about the FM on Lakeway late last week. It was stunning to see how many employees (who I so respect for their service, btw) not adhering to any social distancing practices. While shopping, I had to dodge at least 3 of them. Then the woman (who was older in her 60's maybe?) working in the self-checkout lane, came up behind me within inches and went to push a button on my checkout screen. I asked her to please step back 6 ft. She became angry and said, "I have great immunity." I was wearing a mask and gloves. I said, "It's not about your immunity." She laughed at me. When I walked out I saw a manager. Two employees were standing next to him talking within a foot of each other. I stood 6 ft away and reported the incident. Another employee came up behind me (within 1 ft.) and I asked him to please step back 6 ft. It was stunning. I told the manager that I would not be shopping here again for the remainder of the outbreak. I applauded them for more training of their employees. Seriously, I thought the folks shopping were practicing more SD than the employees. Very different experience at Haagens in FH. Sort of stunning. The Ellensburg School District has hired said company to do preliminary site work for school construction. Early this afternoon returning to my home I was passing the work site. Three male construction workers were in very close proximity. Two men were almost shoulder to shoulder talking to another worker who was seated in a pickup. None were wearing a mask and one of the men spit on the street. We live in a residential neighborhood with many people of all ages. My wife and I are both 70 and not in the best of health. They have donors coughing as well as sick employees that should be staying home. This is absolutely not okay, they are putting people at risk by not following the orders they need. The manager seems really aware of everything and just brush it off. The employees could be at a very high risk of getting it and passing it on since they're working sick, touching others without gloves and allowing a full lobby when they shouldn't. Inside the store, the bus occupants made no attempt at, nor seemed to have any awareness of the social distancing guidelines. The store's two employees made no attempt to impose such order. As the occupants of the bus departed the store and returned to the bus, they made no attempt, nor seemed to have any awareness of social distancing. The bus was an old school bus with about 12 rows of seats. There were at least 17 people on the bus, some sitting 2 per seat. There were more bus occupants still in the store yet to complete their purchases and return to the bus which would decrease the already limited distances between themselves. This situation is not at all uncommon in this area among the local orchard businesses. The license number of the bus is 6GX4585. I do not know for certain, but the orchard company employing the worker is most likely Highland Partnership. This is a completely unacceptable situation.	danathome@homenetw.net Dan	509-449-0016

However, I have noticed the office staff (leasing professional and managers) are still working and have spoken to them which they have said they are working limited hours and trying to maintain social distancing. Their office space is narrow and I have noticed that it is hard for them to maintain social distancing as they pass one another. In addition, we are still required to do our compliance paperwork since we live at an apartment complex that has tax credit units. They have asked us to come in to make appointments to fill out the recertification but we would not be in compliance of the 6' social distancing since we would be sitting at their desk. I know they could work from home as I have spoken to leasing and management and they have laptops. This just poses a concern and risk of health and I'm sure they can work from home. I think they should work from home if they have the means to do it so they aren't posing a risk to each other as well as us as residents of this complex.

Jay DeFolco 360-691-AMEN I have been made aware that as early as the week after Easter Fr. Jay has been making house calls to parishioners and personally inviting them to come to his church to receive communion even though the Archbishop and the Pope himself have spoken out against gathering as set forth by Governor Inslee's Stay At Home order. His actions likened to bullying of elderly (over the ages of 90) who believe if a priest asks you to do it, you MUST! have been experienced and relayed to me by concerned family members who took the time to call and speak with this priest begging him to recant his invitation to those who are of extreme high risk of covid19 resulting in him personally contacting his elderly parishioners and tattling on their concerned family members (those who have been working tirelessly to keep them safe) thus creating a rift that has now kept these elderly at risk people from accepting help from their family putting them even more at risk. Jokes from this churches social media tell of a non-belief that this pandemic should be taken seriously at all and a phone call to the church asking about covid19 protocol confirmed that maybe possibly the priest might wash his hands between offering holy communion (they were not at all convincing) but he most definitely would not wear a mask even though he is in hand to face contact with them. I am weary to report as I feel it will cause an even larger rift in this family but I am more concerned with the health of those he is bullying, the elderly community they live in, and all additional parishioners he is bullying.	rikityous@gmail.com	Stacy Hensley	206/721-9663	Father Jay DeFolco

You have to fill out a request that then goes to HR and your manager. Your manager is then encouraged to go over the guidelines and make you feel safer at work by say, you can wear a masks, you can close your door. You may be asked for medical proof of a condition that falls into their protocol. Staff who can perform, and there are many administrative and business staff that can, perform their main duties at home should be allowed to and not endangered. Not all staff at an essential business are physically needed on site. This is short sighted and embarrassing of a healthcare company. 05/02/20 10:57 PM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Other	Landscaping	Kaleidoscope	16037 Aurora Avenue North,	Seattle	The following is a concern about the company that is putting workers at risk by not following social distancing protocols. The company maintains that two employees travel together in work trucks (not maintaining 6 feet distance in the truck) addressed to job sites. It is clearly stated in the Phase 1 Construction Restart that "Any existing construction projects complying with the points below may resume only those work activities that do not require workers to be closer than six-feet together. If a work activity requires workers to be closer than six-feet, it is not considered lowrisk and is not authorized." Employees should not be asked to drive to worksites together in company trucks as this clearly is against the 6 feet social distancing rule. There has not been a protocol by the company implemented that allows workers to drive to sites in their own cars or on their own in order to maintain this distance. It is also stated in the governors page that "To the extent practical allow only one trade/subcontractor at a time on a jobsite and maintain 6-foot separation social distancing for each member of that trade. If more than one trade/subcontractor must be on the job to complete the job then at a minimum all trades and subcontractors must maintain social distancing policies in accordance with this guidance."	kkarterjed@gmail.com

No social distancing. No control of how many people are in the store at one time. La Rustica serving to go food, inside the restaurant was packed at 7 on Friday April 3. We ordered pick up, when I saw the take out situation I wished we hadn't placed an order. There were people clustered both in front and inside restaurant, employees and cooks lack proper distancing protection, person filling orders so stressed out he started screaming at me "im stressed out, back off," pointing to chairs lined up, he completely freaked out. So many people were inside this tiny restaurant, staff unorganized and obviously stressed out and upset. We wanted to support our neighborhood business, but I was so worried that I didn't want to take out food from a place that was unsanitary, no social distancing of cooks and customers, screaming staff. This is a small business, but I ethically feel a need to report La Rustica. I threw all my clothes in hamper, took shower, and scrubbed everything from my purse, wallet and phone as soon as I got home. This is a nice restaurant, but after witnessing the environment and having upset employee screaming, its clear that they need to change their takeout practices to keep COVID from spreading. The resident being tested was placed on isolation and droplet precaution but with the door opened and the roommate was not isolated because according to the DNS and the administrator that resident was allowed to wander the halls without any restrictions and into the dining rooms just because he was not showing any signs and symptoms however we are aware that signs and symptoms will not be shown up to 14 days of contracting the virus placing all the staff and other residents at risk of being exposed to the virus. Aside from that we were not given the proper PPE for this kind of disease outbreak, having to use garbage bags for our feet and no goggles or face shield to cover our face and even our no touch automatic hand sanitizer dispensers that were placed outside every residents room were switched to the old traditional pumping hand sanitizers in an effort to save money. On Sunday afternoon March 29th one of our coworkers (NAC) was called in to work knowing she is pregnant. That NAC then asked if there was a possible case of the virus and our scheduler (Ron) said no and said that the resident was being swabbed for pneumonia, although she was well aware of someone being tested for covid19 (and we have proof that she did know). The clerk who works there (I picked up on 04/08/2020 at 7:21 PM) was outside smoking within 25 feet of the door, blocking the door to get in. This is illegal. Also, another car pulled up and she was smoking with two people who did not appear to work there. They were hugging and taking no precautions during this COVID-19 pandemic. As I walked up, they made a joke about how they were not practicing social distancing and the clerk laughed. I hesitated and the clerk told me to go in, but I would have to walk right by her (within 6 feet). Then I told them I have asthma and am at risk and cannot breathe cigarette smoke. They were rude to me but stepped back, allowing me to pass. Then the clerk slammed the open door before I could go in, necessitating me touching the door handle. She proceeded to be very rude to me during the transaction, and I had to touch the same pen she touched to sign the receipt. When I tried to use my sleeve to push the button on the credit card machine, she rolled her eyes and also snapped at me. I am livid that there seemed to be no measures in place for us to be protected during this global pandemic, and more livid that the clerk is not only not practicing social distancing, but LAUGHED about it. "Knowing that your store is essential you should take every precaution available to make your customers/staff stay HEALTHY and SAFE. I was at your store yesterday and felt completely unsafe. You have crowds of people coming in your store without your staff keeping an eye making sure there's enough room for the current social distancing measures. Your checkout lines also need serious attention. You have crowds of people lining up without any measures. Your payment kiosks are lacking attention too. I saw zero disinfecting spray bottles, you have NO ONE cleaning common areas after use. If you want to continue to make this a SAFE/HEALTHY place for people to purchase their essentials, you seriously have to do a better job. Control the flow of people in the store, control your checkout lines, disinfect common areas. Please! This is for everyone's safety. I tried calling to tell you about my reaction, but your staff member did not seem to care. You as the owner should take a moment and listen to my story. I'm simply trying to do my part by letting you know. I want to help keep us all HEALTHY and SAFE and hope that you will reconsider your current measures and feel the same way. Customers and employees are in close proximity to each other. Lines at cash registers go half way down the building. It is busier then it is during summer time and I have worked there for 3 years. Employees don't feel safe or that the store is doing enough to protect them. The store limited people for 30 minutes yesterday then did a free for all. I know the local home depot is limiting people so it is causing more people to come to lowes that is letting everyone in cause the money is good. It is regularly overrun with customers shopping for non-essential items, who do not wear masks, stay 6ft apart, or follow any other safety guidelines. It has now become mandatory for all employees to wear masks...but not customers. ANYONE who feels the need to be in public, especially for ridiculous items such as paint or mulch should be wearing masks! This should NOT be optional because for all employees of essential businesses and even others DO NOT HAVE A CHOICE about whether or not they work. Are they expendable? Is that the takeaway from this pandemic? Because it would seem so in many sectors of the working world and Lowe's is on that front line of abuse and disregard. Online and curbside pick up need to be enforced and ALL customers who go inside MUST be required to wear masks and stay 6ft from each other and employees. This is not rocket science. I cannot fathom why we are THREE months into this and STILL these basic safety precautions are not being practiced or if need be ENFORCED. Somebody out there...PLEASE get on Lowe's and every business about how vital it is for both employees and CUSTOMERS to wear masks. As people are pulling up to the window they're leaning out going out food, handing out money condiments etc. People coming through these drive-thru appear to be sick. I feel this needs to be addressed. Mc Donald's as all fast food drive thru's are not Essential. Is it really essential for someone to get their big Mac. Doesn't this just cause more people to go out and buy fast food. When people should be buying food from the grocery store preparing their food at home and staying home not going out driving around. My daughter works this drive thru and is scared every day. She is a single parent to a 6 year old child who is also being exposed because she is everyday. His daycare and school have closed down and getting help to watch him now is hard. I can not help because of the exposure and my underlying health problems. This needs to be addressed she is not only putting herself at risk but also her child for 14:00 an hour really. Why so people can run around to drive thru 's that should be on the stay at home order. Everyone needs to do their part. Fast food restaurants are not essential business. I urge the Governor to re-look at this issue and close these businesses to We don't want to be another New York. There is a resident that is making masks, but the masks are not being allowed to be distributed to the residents to be worn by those who desire to have at least some protection. In the last few days there was a worker that went to work and was tested positive for the virus. This person was sent home, but there has been no information given to the residents as to the identity of this person. It is alarming because it is not known how long this person might have been going to work without symptoms but was being a carrier and spreading the virus. There has not been any notification to the residents to find out who may have had contact with that person or any concerns for quarantine measures to prevent the virus from spreading through the whole campus. The residents have been expressing their concerns, but it seems to fall on deaf ears. Families are gravely concerned about the lack of concern from the officials that run the facility. Owner was present. Whiteboard sign said '10 Shoppers Maximum' but many more than 10 people shopping. Noone monitoring census. Cashier had mask around her neck. Aisles too narrow to move about at 6 feet. Because register/counter space is small, customer needs to stand close distance from cashier, as customer adds bags of produce to counter as cashier weighs and bags and makes room on the counter for additional bags of produce. So if customer buys a lot of produce, customer must stand across from cashier, in close proximity for extended period of time. Solutions: 1) Close 1/2 of parking lot and widen fruit/vegie area 2) Always have worker counting customers with waiting area with 6 foot markers 3) Take down the long shelf by cashier and replace with short counters so cashier can reach cart and customer can move away or customer only buy 10 items that can all fit on counter...or some other idea? Bellevue	TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: The Washington State Coronavirus states - "on-site visits to the dealership are by appointment only and must be scheduled remotely; only 1 dealership employee may be present in the dealership building (showroom or office) at any one time, and that employee may only be present during the duration of the sale". But this dealership has multiple employees working and visible in the building/showroom floor. There has been several occasions where there has been more than one customer in the showroom as well. This is jeopardizing the safety of everyone (customers and employees) as the stay at home clause is still in effect, so this company shouldn't be allowed to break the rules. This issue needs to be addressed ASAP because there is a lot of fraudulent activity going on at this place when it comes to complying with the essential business order. This coronavirus is not a game, people are really dying from this and we as a nation can't afford for businesses to take advantage of the situation by not properly following the rules set forth. Thank you for taking time out to review this complaint and I hope that it gets addressed immediately. Sincerely, Considered Customer

It was very crowded and the staff were not making any effort to alleviate the situation. It was almost impossible to stay 6 ft away from anyone. Fortunately, I wore rubber gloves and a mask, but I felt very uneasy because, being 77 years old, I'm in the high-risk category. What I found disturbing is that everyone in the store, customer and staff, was behaving as if there no pandemic. The only action the staff took was to ban the use of personal grocery bags. The management should have instituted restrictions on how many customers to allow in the store at any given time. I have observed them counting and keeping the limit at 80 people approximately very few times, less than 10, but when done the counting has not even been consistent throughout the day. After expressing my concerns of too many people in the store at one time the feedback I got was "everyone is working on a voluntary basis, if you feel uncomfortable then don't come to work". This is following the store director's commitment to closely monitor and count the number of customers in the store. The 80 person limit is in addition to the employees in the building which is approximately 50-60 additional persons in the building. I strongly feel that we consistently have double the person limit and our management team continues to dismiss employee concerns about the limit. Many of my fellow co-workers have expressed discomfort and frustration with managers and the store director team when groups/masses of people continue to flow in the store every hour of the day without any kind of count/monitoring. My office had a tour today - agents rode together and met at the office... that is so wrong. One of my listings was shown and I parked down the street to see what transpired and an agent from another company drove up with herself and 6 people in the car - a couple, 2 children, and perhaps parents? THEY ALL WENT IN MY LISTING. I called my Broker and was told they are of the opinion the limitations are extreme and without merit and to worry more about selling houses than that. I was shocked but not surprised. The last two weeks many of the agents I know have blown off the restrictions from the very beginning like they mean nothing - one commented there are too many of us to have it policed so why worry. New home sites are wide open. Do they not care about the exposure they are subjecting the public to? And now stagers and photographers can go in homes - what happens when furniture is removed from a house and put in another one, then you find out the first one has someone diagnosed with the virus? I appreciate you trying to help us but the industry is not worthy of the trust. Others are way more so - like dentists and optometrists for regular checkups. We need the income like everyone else but should not compromise to the public exponentially to do so. Even though it would affect me I think the exception needs to be withdrawn - and so does my seller for that matter. WAR and the MLS keep sending out reminders of the rules but obviously they are not followed.

I am also concerned that residents that are sheltered in place without the virus may be exposed to the virus (with or without their own suitable masks) when their exterior windows are removed (as residents have been notified will be done in the past and this or next week) while any other unit's exterior windows are removed at the same time where anyone inside the other unit(s) may be quarantined with and/or asymptomatic and/or recovering from the virus inside; likewise I am concerned that all residents that are scheduled to have their exterior windows removed are at risk from workers or residents who may be asymptomatic with virus. Although residents have been asked to report and have reported virus infections as far as I know residents have not been informed of virus infections of any of the workers so this is not an equitable exchange of information between residents and PBE and residents would not know at this time if they may have been exposed to the virus by PBE employees and/or sub-contractors and/or their deliveries. I live with my grandmother and 2 other at risk family members. We are all deeply concerned about returning to work as a family and are still following the governors stay at home order. When I voiced my opinion I was told "10-4 more to come". I received no information whatsoever regarding what returning to work would look like until wednesday evening I received an email, worded as if I had not communicated my concerns about returning to work, stating that I would be terminated as of thursday evening at 5pm. I pleaded with them to please not put me in a position to choose between the health and safety of my family, or losing my job, I have worked for the company for almost 5-6 years. I have little confidence that they will be able to comply with the guidelines necessary to re-open construction in Washington state, but are forcing their employees to come in. I also believe they have had people working throughout the entire shutdown. They did not offer any work from home situation, nor a temporary replacement for my position. They went straight for my termination, saying that they needed to move on. They have now terminated me as of yesterday. I would like to know if this is just cause to fire me. Thank you. 04/29/20 3:24 PM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not follow	Construction		Paras Homes	603 N Havanna St	Spokane	This is now the fourth notification of concern and observation regarding construction workers who are not following safety procedures. Workers, after being observed daily, are not wearing face masks while working on the site located in the Eagle Ridge subdivision of Spokane, WA. In addition, they are not social distancing as required. These are not situations where workers were unable to maintain six-foot distancing requirements on a specific task. They were standing around on the site and not distancing. The purpose of this notification is to make certain the governor's office knows that within the construction industry, an industry that was allowed early reopening, there are contractors who are not enforcing the safety rules. Within less than a 14 mile of each other, Paras Homes and two other construction companies were in violation of the orders regarding distancing and protective equipment. If they are in violation at the outset, where will this lead in terms of violations, health risks and a burden to the health care system and other services. 05/04/20 8:59 AM		Other Agency	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Construction		Pierce County	274th Street East and 86th A Graham		I just came up 274th Street East and 86th Avenue East, in Graham, WA (about 7:30 a.m., Monday May 4, 2020). There were at least a half dozen vehicles and equipment, with at least one marked Pierce County. One person, a flagger, had on a mask. All the others were in close groups and wore no protection. They were working shoulder to shoulder and talking in groups. Our family is practicing social distancing, sanitizing, wearing masks and wearing gloves. How much good does it do for us to follow the regulations when County employees are not? My husband works in construction, he has sanitizer in his machine, in his truck and in his lunch box. He wears a mask, gloves and a visor PLUS he practices social distancing! Why is Pierce County not enforcing the rules for their construction employees.	chjessa@msn.com	Sandra Hemminger	(253) 579-3661

In addition they are less than 4 feet apart. If the minimum safe distance is 6 feet why would a hospital place patients so close to each other when there are clearly safer options? I highly doubt 100% of the patient population has been tested so it would still put patients at risk. Staff is being low censused making personnel the unlikely reason.

The QFC store in Capitol Hill managed by Jillian Boone, as of Friday morning April 10, 2020, all of the self-checkout stands appeared to be open and customers were crowding within six feet of one another. The line of shoppers waiting for machines appeared adequately spaced because of the floor stickers. But a QFC employee directing shoppers to the units told one woman to use a machine directly next to two other shoppers already positioned side by side as they bagged groceries — even with several available machines nearby. The employee then watched as the three shoppers stood side by side, less than six feet apart from one another, while completing their purchases. At one point, the employee, who wasn't wearing a facial covering, was asked for help by one of the customers and stood less than two feet away while answering questions. Store manager also posted a memo to staffers last week telling them social distancing "will not always work & chided staffers last week for attempting to close some of the "u-scan" machines to create more space between customers. Per the most recent covid safety announcement from Eric, dated May 13th, it specifically outlines REI's company wide PPE expectations. I am writing to express concern not only for myself but for my co-workers who don't have the courage to speak up. - https://www.rei.com/blog/rei-news/eric-artiz-reopening-our-stores-2 - https://www.rei.com/newsroom/article/may-2020-health-and-safety-fact-sheet - "Asking everyone who enters an REI facility to use personal protective equipment (PPE). - Employees are required to wear face coverings while in REI locations - this includes stores, distribution centers and any location being staffed by employees deemed "essential personnel." - Certain jobs will require employees to use gloves, but we are making gloves available to all staff who choose to use them. - We are also asking all customers to wear face coverings while at REI stores, and are providing disposable face coverings for anyone who doesn't have them. This is a request, not a requirement (except where local mandate requires them), but we're asking our community to take this simple action to keep our employees and their fellow customers safe, and to help stop the spread. - We are also making gloves available to all.	amy.mariewalenga@gmail.com Amy Walenga	3605818323

The pharmacy is not in compliance with state regulations nor in compliance with the so-called safety precautions Rite Aid corporate is stating they have issued to sanitize the stores. We have a wide older population in Island County on Whidbey Island. I have picked up my medication 3 times in the past month. I have never seen them sanitize the pay screens, not the counter, none of the staff wears a mask, they do not practice social distancing with the customers. I politely asked if they had sanitizer for the pen or screen last time and their response was, "if you don't like it you can bring your own pen". Today I had a different employee when I picked up my medication. I wore gloves and a mask, as our Governor is asking of us, none of the employees in the Freeland store are wearing a mask. The customers step up to the counter...maybe 2 feet away from the employee. I asked if they cleaned the screens between customers (as the grocery is doing next door, and all other stores I have dared to venture into when essential business is needed) ...The response was, "We are waiting for our plexiglass screens so people can stop telling us how bad we are. " I said I was not trying to offend, just asking them to be aware and take precautions...they are a pharmacy and the stores are not being cleaned. This is unacceptable behavior and they are putting the community at risk.	MicheleLussier@gmail.com	Michele Lussier	2067139046
04/01/20 10:26 PM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not follow	Health-related business	Rite Aid	909 East Yelm AVE	Yelm	If pharmacies without proper social distancing space available between employees what should we do? Most pharmacies do not have space to abide by social distancing requirements while being properly staffed. Pharmacists have access to PPE for inoculations only, technicians and cashiers have no access to these. Public areas are not being cleaned properly due to lack of staff. Customers are actively ignoring social distance requirements with no repercussions or response from either management or law enforcement. A solution to alleviate this would be to enforce the limit of people allowed in the store at a time, including employees. Medication can be delivered through mail or drive through, and does not require face to face contact. As a health care provider we do not have access to a quarantine list, and cannot verify if a person is in violation of a quarantine order. We should have access to information regarding people under quarantine and the ability to report them if they are in violation. Thank You.	glanderin.darisse@gmail.com		3604135464

When I went to the cashier for checkout, I tried to keep my social distancing of 6 feet. The Cashier did not seem to care about my social distancing. She tried to walk toward me when she brought me a can of soup broth which I forgot. I told her I appreciate it for going to get this for me. She was walking toward me with can of soup. I abruptly said, to say back. Then she went back to the cash register and wanted me to come up to her to pay. I said I wanted to set my money on the conveyor belt. She acted like what I was doing was nonsensical. When I said that I thought she was being rude and I would complain to the manager, she started accusing me of being rude to her and then asking me if I was rude to other customers which I emphatically denied. The conversation started to become escalated and heated. After telling this Stacy I was going to complain to the manager, she said she would do likewise with me. Stacy informed me that I could not come back into the store. When I came home and later on that morning I called and spoke to the manager, Ron Bond. Mr. Bond told me that Stacy was really shook up and whatever she says will stand. I told him all I was trying to do is exercise my social distancing and he did not seem to care. I explained to him like I did with Stacy that I have an elderly mother at home living with me who has a compromised immune system and it is essential that I protect her. They had no signs regarding social distance or any appearance of ppe. it was like business as usual. I asked about a van, they showed it to me. On the day after there was a requirement to use face masks, most had on facemasks for a day or so. Now they are either gone or worn over their throat area--there are several exceptions to this as occasionally one worker is seen with appropriate mask. Social distancing appears to be nonexistent and there appears to be no attempt to change this. The grocery store installed a clear plastic barrier at the scanning check out location but the older person doing the bagging had no mask, and the manager said they did this on their own. No signage at the time (1.5 weeks ago when I was last in). The tire shop did the usual plastic over the steering wheel and seat cushions, however, I would question the door handles, keys, etc. if they had protection. This could be done better, with proper Health Department oversight, and should be done a lot better. Sent an email to the local Kitsap County Commissioner but only got a short answer without addressing any improvements or change in the way the County does their health inspection and oversight business. The Kitsap County web site: https://www.kitsapcounty.com/CommunityHealth/Coronavirus.htm is operational for providing statistical information but three months into this the County, led by the State, should be doing a whole lot more. They have to lean and sit next to each other or walk by each station multiple times a day. There is only one entrance and bathroom and there is no one designated to clean or sanitize the office. It is packed with interpreters doing video relay service which means it could be anywhere between 15-40 people all working in close proximity to each other. Only 4 interpreters have been able to get equipment to work from home while the rest are begging corporate to be able to do so also. This is a very dangerous environment because of how close everyone is sitting and how much exposure they have with each other. This facility has not properly quarantined residents, healthy residents in electric wheel chairs are allowed to go in and out of the facility to smoke cigarettes, to get to there outside destination they must go through the quarantined area. They are putting residents at risk by not providing a safe path for them to go outside. The 2nd floor RCM has been seen going to patients rooms on the 1st floor where there are many positive cases to be found, without proper gowns and mask. She then goes to the 2nd floor without proper sanitization of her hands and clothing. I fear she is helping with the spread of this virus. Staff is not kept up to date on PPE or guidelines, this is the responsibility of the infection control Hardish Kendrick. The director of nursing is nowhere to be seen ever. It is her responsibility to oversee the nursing staff as a whole. She puts this responsibility on nurses and Francis Bean who is not qualified for this responsibility. I fear for the remaining residents and staff of this home being infected further. Proper cleaning by professionals not the healthcare workers is required in order to stop the spread of infection in this facility. This facility also has a staffing agency who goes to other facilities helping to spread this among the rest of the community. Please this facility has endangered many lives by not following proper procedure. They do know how to comply as I have witness them do it when an outside source such as the health department or state, come into the facility	aprilbaum7.ab@gmail.com April york	2087040525

05/19/20 9:20 AM			Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Restaurant or food service business		Stewarts Meat Market	17821 State Route 507	Yelm	My partner has been at Stewarts to purchase meat. The first time, two weeks ago, you got a number, sat in your car for your turn and their employees wore masks. Yesterday, 5/18/20, none of the employees wore masks, they were not limiting how many people were in the store or keeping them 6' apart - even the clerk kept trying to stand close to him. It also makes me wonder if the person packing the meat in the back is wearing ppe?

They make sure they work very closely together on the site as I have observed from my window. Secondly it is highly unfair that construction in a residential neighborhood is allowed to begin at 7 AM until 7 PM during a time when people cannot leave their homes. How are they allowed to disturb the neighborhood that is trying to study and work for a construction project that isn't even for low income individuals? This construction site is only for profit, for wealthy Amazon employees, it's on their advertisement. The government needs to protect the community and ensure we have quiet safe neighborhoods. I work at Taylor farm warehouse and all people here work very close to each other. I have seen young people who are sick or coughing to work and they put all the old people working in line at risk of getting coronavirus. The company does not measure temperature or provide protective equipment to workers. My real worry is working very close to each other, which increases over the chance of getting a virus if one of us has it. Please take some action against the company. This driver comes into the office where I work, has sat next to me even though I have asked him to stay six feet away. He does NOT wear a mask or gloves. There are 16 Home Depot office/logistic operations people that work in close quarters in the office and they are NOT practicing social distancing/safe working measures. I sit in an office space where they sit back-to-back and next to each other. Desks are NOT 6ft apart, there are small partitions between desks, but they are not full cubicles. People gather around desks, in the break rooms in groups (again no masks, no gloves) and gather in the office in groups of 3, 4, 5, people standing or sitting and talking all in close proximity. There are masks and gloves available, however, employees and management (with two exceptions) are not using them. They have never closed during the Stay Home Stay Safe order as they said they are an essential business. I am an (ex-Navy Corpsman-medic) and I wear a mask and gloves everyday and myself and only one other person do this. 05/18/20 2:17 PM		Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Restaurant or food service business		Teriyaki & Pho	24024 Bothell Everett Hwy Si Bothell		Yesterday I stopped at the Teriyaki & Pho Restaurant in Bothell to order a take out dinner. When I arrived there were two individuals sitting at a table with three large plates of food on the table that they were sharing. I thought they were customers. When I went up to the counter to order my dinner, one of the individuals got up from the table and came up to the counter to take my order. Not once did she use cleansing solution on her hands before taking my order. She did not even wear a mask. She took my order and placed it in an opening for the cooks. After she took my order she went back to the table and continued eating. I could see that the cooks were neither wearing face masks or gloves during the preparation of the dinner. They set my dinner above the counter. The server then got back up and went up the counter and opened my dinner box to put sauce in and then closed the box and put it into a plastic bag and brought it to me. I brought it home put it into a glass plate and microwaved it for a minute and then put it into plastic storage containers and put them into the refrigerator. I had a small portion of the dish last night but then I also put it into the microwave for an additional two minutes. I know that I might have been overly cautious, but I did not want to take any chances. Today after thinking about it more, I just did not want to take any additional chances and put the remaining portion in the garbage. I am sorry to convey this situation and was unsure who to report it to, but I just feel that this process was totally unsafe food preparation. 									I entered the "Dollar Tree" food store in mid morning Friday May 15th wearing a mask and eyewear as a safety precaution for the coronavirus. A customer in the store walked toward me (black male) me as I entered an aisle to shop and I had to back out of the aisle (narrow one) without a mask. I indicated that I wanted to practice safe distancing and he got angry mumbling something back then as I went into the aisle he seemed to be thinking about reentering the aisle. I repeated that I wanted to maintain a safe distance and he then said something else in an angry tone. He then walked away.
									Then a store clerk/counterperson (black female) not wearing a mask came up to me in an unfriendly tone and asked me if "I was alright". I asked why she wasn't wearing a mask and she kicked me out of the store.
									As I was leaving the manager of the store (a white male) came out of his office in a huff glaring at me. I left the store and was maybe 50 feet away from the front door going to unlock my bike and this manager claiming he was the woman counter persons boss and she standing at the door calling me names told me to "get down the road".
									I told him not to get any closer and asked why he was pursuing me out of the store as he approached me. He as well didn't have a mask on restating that he was "her boss". More hostile words were spoken and I reminded them that they could be spreading

03/31/20 7:46 PM	bpdcustomersupport@dol.wa.gov	DOL	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Other	Real Estate	Three or four different ones	More than one	King County	Good evening, I am a real estate agent and have been for over 20 years. My wife and I were driving to and from the store and doctor the last few days and I have been appalled at the utter disregard by people in my industry of the rules we are supposed to be following. There were open houses this weekend at new construction sites and at individual properties. The selling agent of a listing of mine set an appointment today to do a walkthrough and brought the buyer's entire family with her. They were all in the house at once and my client called furious to see that on his cameras. Also today I showed a woman (just her) a home, and the seller was there. He told me the agent said he could stay because "being there really did not matter and he could not be forced to leave" so I left with my client (very embarrassed) without seeing the home. I confronted the agent from the walk through a few moments ago and she was flippant and snarled "The buyers had a right to inspect the home", and then laughingly asked if I was going to turn her in. That is my true desire but she would know who did it and I would suffer the impact of other agents once she told them I was the one that made an issue. We are supposed to be professionals but evidently we are not. While I appreciate the latitude Gov. Inslee gave us in limited actions the industry has proven it is not deserving. As our children have grown they have earned privileges based on integrity, performance, etc. but have lost them just as fast for violating those criteria. Even though it would bear on me as well, I believe we should be removed as an essential business.

04/29/20 7:43 AM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Other	Property Management & Con Thrive (Property Manger) & GenCap (C 1310 Minor Ave	Seattle	The property manager for Union Park Apartments (26, 98101) has notified residents of replacing the windows in each unit, a project that began Fall 2019. The windows for the building are "window walls," and compose ~90% of the exterior walls in each unit. The only room this project would not effect is the bathroom, as the units are an open-space design. The project would leave residents without stable exterior shelter for three weeks, totaling a minimum of 42 hours when construction crew are inside the resident's unit. The majority of units are studio and 1-bedroom (~600 sqft), making it difficult to social distance while crews are present. The property manager has also implied that residents leave their home while work is conducted, stating if they aren't able to leave painting will be postponed. There is also concern of the use/disposal of PPE. Workers will use a mask, gloves, and booties changing between units. Currently, masks used on-site range from fabric to surgical to n95s with some not wearing masks at all. There is no mention of eyeshielding protection nor if protection is given to residents, many of whom work in the hospitals on First Hill. There is also no indication of how the crew will safely dispose of materials between units as the crew would exit apartments into communal space (i.e. hallway, elevator, stairway) to reach their office.	slakerja@msu.edu	Janine Slaker	419-340-4760	AHernan@thrivecommunities.com (Onsite manager)

When concern over spacial distancing as decreed by our governor is brought to group attention, the response was to ridicule and belittle the concern and the person who brought it up and isolate them from the group. Which the group 7 adults STILL carry on regardless of dangerous condition of the supply room. The solution is that the one individual expressing concern, now goes straight to his area, receives supplies from manager. Yet the manager by proximity to workers could contract virus-pass it on to the seperated individual. Unsafe. In addition the key card to access the floor is placed on the drinking fountain in a public lobby unattended for a period by the manager. No guarantee someone won't take it or intentionally misplace it. In short a security risk to the individual worker AND the building. Its NOT a safe compromise at all. It has been brought to the attention of the manager that certain things are not being done like soap dispensers being refilled. Again as decreed by the governor: handwashing=essential. Not issued any PPE beyond gloves.

As I walked in line to get in, I observed this and saw several people trying to distance from him but it was impossible because you had to go through the door and he was standing right there. For an extended length of time another employee stood in the exit door and the only way to exit was within inches of this person. I along with everyone else had to use this exit. I walked as far as I could away as I exited but it is only a standard door with the employee on one side so I estimate that I was 1-2 feet away. After I left, I called and spoke with the manager to bring it to his attention. I sincerely thought he would appreciate it and make a change. Instead he went on and on about how there were limiting how many could shop at a time and doing the best they could. He was not at all interested in changing the set up at the door. The employee stands on a mat which it placed there so it is clearly a violation of distancing. I only want us all to do what we can to stop the spread. We spoke to Erik via phone afterwards & he claimed he "forgot the stay at home order." I am at high risk per my physician if contracting Covid-19. I feel this business, whom was trying to go on our roof about a bent gutter, (which I do not see how that is essential) endangered myself and my family due to their non use of social distancing guidelines. I further do not understand why this business is open & doing these types of jobs at this time. Thank you.	jacport@gmail.com	Jacqueline Kay Ortoleva	4252601523 Erik Deltz, DeltzE@transblue.org

04/16/20 2:46 PM	No Agency	Essential business not follow	Other	Pest control	Tri Guard	234 SW 43rd St	Renton, Washington	At approximately 2:22 pm on April 15, a young male approached my home and rang my doorbell. I was immediately alerted by my RING doorbell camera. He wore a black sweatshirt with the name Tri Guard on the left side of the shirt. After waiting a few minutes for him to notice my no solicitation sign and go away I finally went to the door and opened it. The you man did not identify himself and immediately started to point to my neighbors house and told me he was treating my neighbors with pesticide treatments. At that point I cut him off because I was uncomfortable that he was standing very close to me with no masks or gloves on and asked him if he noticed my no solicitation sign. He said nothing. I then told him I wasn't interested and he left. I'm appalled that any company would be soliciting door to door during a pandemic. Especially without protective masks or gloves. I had to sanitize my doorbell after left. I hope that you will discourage this kind of conduct moving forward. Also I'm quite sure door to door solicitation is not allowed in my neighborhood. thank you	tunerpain@yahoo.com	Tracy Pain

Therefore his actions and those of UW Housing staff either ignore or openly state that they have no responsibility to do anything about resident students who violate the mandate even when repeated violations have been reported over the past 3 weeks and 2 days. In this example, a student continues to go in and out of her assigned residence, often staying overnight in someone else's UW residence which should be "...solely including those people who are part of a single household or residential living unit." I entered and there were hardly any carts left. I grabbed a cart and continue into the store. It was packed, no one practicing social distancing at all not even the employees. I saw a woman with a newborn baby in a sling, no protection at all in a very crowded aisle. I just needed a few things so I quickly got what I came for and headed to the register. Again no social distancing in line either. A guy came up close behind me in line ...too close. I started take coughing and it did not phase him. The cashier had no plegless no gloves or mask. They have employees who have small children with genetic conditions, heart conditions and compromised immune systems. Yet they are still expecting staff to show up Monday through Friday from 8-5 and they're having people just bring their kids to the office rather than stay home with them. They've been guilt tripping anyone who's spoke up against management. They're basically making employees choose between their health and keeping their jobs. Why would a law office be deemed so essential? Hundreds of other firms are telecommuting. Why is this office the exception? The broad blanket which L&I is using to protect their employees under the Governor's Stay Home Declaration is endangering the lives and well-being of WA citizens like myself. You have inspectors sitting on their ass doing nothing because of how they have chosen to implement the directive rather than taking the time to make decisions on a case by case basis. I had a permit pulled for work hours before the declaration was signed. The work was completed and now sits waiting for an inspection. Months of planning to move my home and small business have already been implemented - including moving everything to the site as the owners of the previous property are selling the home. I have no power to live and work, no money to temporarily relocate because of a hole in the relief fund distribution, and seemingly no way to resolve this issue quickly because of the bureaucracy involved. The inspection requires no human contact. Just a simple visit to a rural site so I can get the local utility to connect me to the grid. A process that is usually done in a few days I am now being told may not happen until May - and will be subject to a severe backlog caused, in part, by the Department's decision to do nothing rather than take the time to do what is outside their normal process. This appears to violate 20-25 by putting the citizens of WA at risk of losing livelihoods, homes, and possibly lives (I am a recent transplant patient who is immune compromised) through a failure of the State to do its job.	sigrid.reinert@doh.wa.gov	Sigrid Reinert	3602695333

03/1/20 8:38 PM		Essential Business	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Construction	WCCI	Green valley rd	Auburn	I must remain anonymous! I am an employee of this company and have been for many years. We are performing jobs that are city funded, but being essential right now is questionable. They are for whatever reason, overstaffing these jobs by 3x the amount of employees as normal. Not all tasks required of us provide the social distancing guidelines. These practices are being mostly ignored altogether. There are no handwashing facilities provided, no sanitizer given out. There are 50 of us gathered every morning at the yard, then about 2 groups of 25 head off in different directions. A jobsite where they would normally staff with 6 or 7 guys are being staffed with 20 or more causing large groups to gather. Multiple different people using the same tools with no way or time to disinfect, multiple people driving the same work trucks around. I just dont understand how some of these jobs are so critical they have to be done right now. They are essential to our infrastructure yes, but need to be done right now? Another huge problem is the ones who take it seriously seem to get complacent, while there's also the ones who think this is all a joke, and we are overreacting. Putting us at greater risk. One of the jobs is 100 ave and 10th st. in Bellevue. This job has been way over crowded. I have witnessed a city employee ignoring the social distancing and not enforcin it on the jobsite. None of us feel enough is being done to protect us, we are all worried for our families. Basically every other construction projects have stopped. However this company is going full steam, ignoring guidelines and putting us all at risk.	hac101706@gmail.com	Anonymous

I know employees have submitted concern about living with high risk people, or someone themselves being high risk, and they still haven't sent those employees home or to work from home. There are people in the administration department that they offered "limited schedules" to, but the employee HAD to agree to it. 05/18/20 3:25 PM			Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Restaurant or food service business	West Valley Big Foot Java	3618 W Valley Hwy	Auburn	On 5/09/2020, we went through drive through at Big Foot Java West Valley Hwy location. Upon approaching the ordering window I asked the employee for hand sanitizer after she handed me the credit card machine to sign for my purchase. The employee told m that they don't have hand sanitizers. I was concerned because I did not see anyone wearing face masks or gloves or washing their hands before preparing my order. I asked the person helping us what type of precautionary safety measures they were taking to avoid exposure and potential spread of germs and the employee informed me that they were washing their hands before preparing new order, sanitizing the credit card machine that they hand out to customers. With that said, the employee who assisted us and "all" other staff who were working at the stand did not practice any of these safety precautions as we sat there and observed everyone taking and preparing orders. Not once were the ipads handed to customers sanitized and not once did we see any employee wash their hands. We parked at the gas station next to the ordering booth and observed customers come and go, using the ipad and handing them to the employees and no one sanitized them after the customers touched them. No employee washed their hands either and no one wore any gloves while preparing orders. This is a huge violation and safety risk for any customers going through the drive through at West Valley Big Foot Java. I was initially instructed that testing would be conducted in a "drive through manner." However, upon arriving to the hospital I noted that there was no one outside and that there was a sign on the door indicating that testing would take place in the health building (a small house on campus). Upon entering the building, I observed approximately 15-20 employees congregating in the entry way awaiting testing. Only a few staff were wearing masks while awaiting testing. Eventually I was asked to join an infectious disease specialist in an office where I was sat down along with another nurse and other staff being tested. There was not appropriate social distancing in this room, or in the waiting area among staff who are all being tested for suspected contact. Neither nurse conducting testing was wearing gloves, and I observed one to not use hand sanitizer in between taking staff tests. The Infectious disease specialist then handed me a cotton swab with ungloved hands and instructed me on how to insert it in each of my nostrils. She then collected the swab and told me she was unsure when I would receive the results but that I could return to work. As I left the building, I observed the entry way of the building becoming increasingly crowded, not allowing for appropriate social distancing. I have a number of concerns regarding beyond social distancing rules

There is no social distancing followed. Even though this is considered as an essential business, that is really not responsible for the kids and teachers in the community. The class size is bigger than 10 kids. Highly suggest that this business should be forced to close and do some deep cleaning in the building.

I live in a 250-unit condo building and my neighbors include cancer patients, people in their 80s, and even a holocaust survivor. We have a shared elevator, lobby, and hallway with investor-owned residential units. Many people need to leave their units to get to doctor appointments. These out-of-state investors are still operating short-term rentals, including housekeeping and everything that comes with it. Some of these units are specifically advertised for Covid isolation and precaution. Again, they in the same hallway as seniors who will die if they get this virus. Stay home, stay safe? This is no different than offering covid isolation units in a senior living facility. Please clarify your policy about vacation rentals, because my neighbors' lives are at risk. I'm 50 with a spinal cord injury, and I'm at risk too, and I'm running errands and sorting packages to do everything I can to keep my neighbors safe. I work in the IT department. We have 14 employees in the department. Situation: I have spent all my personnel and vacation time since the announcement of 'Stay Home, Stay Healthy' My son has a lung condition which would make him a high risk case if exposed to COVID-19. I have talked with my supervisor and they are not budging on my request to stay home, even when I offer to do it without pay. I have over 100 hours of sick time available and they will not allow me to use that either. Request: Is there any way I can plea for an exception to the essential personnel identification. Opinion: Stay Home, Stay Healthy is meant to stop the risk to spread the infection. There should be no reason why an entire support department is needed to fulfill the required support for essential personnel. 14 people to support a near non-existent staff and student population is not needed. At maximum, 3 people would be able to accomplish the task. I know if I go back to work, my tasks would include maintenance on equipment that the essential personnel are not using, so again, it really is unnecessary.	seastrum@gmail.com	Seth Seastrum	7155871912

Today, the DCH Call Center told me that they don't think it's allowable but probably not an enforceable violation. During a March 26 press conference, Governor Inslee said, "You can leave your house for a walk, you can go for a drive, you can do things essential to your livelihood for these essential industries. We do want you to limit those activities in ways that make common sense, however." I signed a year lease upon renting, meaning I know longer have a lease. On March 25th I received a letter from MS Properties stating my son was not on my lease (that I don't have) I was at risk of losing my housing and all vehicles belonging to my son will be towed on 4/20/2020. After talking with the manager she stated there was to be no more than two adults in a one bedroom and the owner was enforcing it. With that being said ALL but a few apt's are definitely housing more than 2 adults in each apt. I made the statement of my knowledge of such to the manager she said "I know". My son has been no problem here and I'm unsure of why. I've certainly tried to find housing since I received this letter but with the order in place it's very difficult to do without a meet and greet. They are not capable of keeping workers 6 feet from each other. It is literally impossible to do so. A lot of job functions require a team environment and "two man integrity." They are not capable of keeping bathrooms properly sanitized as well. We have one janitor on one shift to clean 3 shifts of over 300 employees. There is no way to sanitize parts or tools after you use them. We have a contact approved/non contact material list of what can and cannot touch the parts. Especially, if someone coughs or wipes their nose then touches it. People are not staying 6 ft away from each other as it isn't possible 100% of the time. We make parts for Boeing and other companies. If Boeing isn't essential enough to stay open, we shouldn't either. The companies greed isn't worth our lives and risking our loved ones lives. A lot of employees are fearful and feel like we are being forced to be put in danger. There is nothing we can do. We show up to work and risk our lives and our loved ones lives or go homeless. This company is not essential. The aerospace industry is at a halt and we had lay offs due to a decline of business BEFORE this virus hit. Many people think this virus is a joke and are not following social distancing or caring to sanitize anything. While the other half of us are scared for our lives - I will be using a fake name under the contact information portion. I fear retaliation if they find out who I am. TRUE	03/30/20 3:16 PM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Business function performed	Other	Warehouse	Hexcel	15062 Steele RD	Burlington	Hexcel makes parts for Boeing. Boeing has closed down for the safety of their workers and the community. Hexcel has no reason to be open and is less "essential" than Boeing and is still open. People are not 6 feet away from each other. This company is putting a lot of workers and workers family members at risk by being open when they don't need to be. Workers are showing up to work in fear of losing their job but scared of their own health and safety and exposing their loved ones. Many workers are immunocompromised and a lot of workers family members they live with are in extreme danger over this. Hexcel should follow in Boeing's footsteps and close their doors. This is very unfair and unsafe for many workers when they aren't essential. Most of the workers share the same bathroom. And share lots of space and items and there is only one janitor for the whole facility. It shouldn't take a "confirmed covid" in an employee or a death for Hexcel to close its doors. If Boeing can close then so should Hexcel. Too many lives are at risk. Please look into this and help us stay safe. I can also provide an email showing Hexcel telling their employees they can into take off 2 weeks and they can use their vacation and sick time but threatens if you use all your sick time now and get sick later, you'll be in trouble. Only giving their employees 2 weeks doesn't do anything if they just have to go back and expose themselves because Hexcel doesn't want to close its doors over greed and money and not wanting to pay for unemployment. Had a headache, cough runny nose & diarrhea. The remainder of her shift was covered & she was sent home. We found out through her bus aides that she was actually sick since Monday 3/23/20. On 3/27/20 employees were told by the Supervisor that this person no longer feels sick & will return to work on 3/30/20. Several employees spoke up & asked for her to go to the Dr to at least get a Dr Note or get tested. The supervisor notified the staff that he can not ask her to go to the Dr. He did talk to Administration which also told him the same thing. Employees do not feel comfortable with her being allowed to come back to work just like that, with no test or Dr. Note. Yet in other areas of the district they have posted papers saying of you feel sick, stay home, which is also what the Governor has released. So why are other employees put at risk to have this driver back? All routes were covered when she was gone so it's not like we were short of drivers.	Anonymous	Anonymous	509-882-8599

Letter does not threaten eviction but definitely seems to pressure tenants to pay rent by telling tenants company has bills to pay as well. These notices never posted before Coronavirus. I have a picture of the letter posted on all the apartment doors. It was sent to me by daughter. Seems odd the timing as the same time of Coronavirus. Customers must self-serve at each yogurt machine and the yogurt machines (handles) are touched by multiple customers. The topping area is also open and exposed. This is definitely not pre-packaged take-out as the proclamation intended. Customers also congregate by the machines.

TRUE	03/30/20 4:41 PM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not follow	Health-related business		Community Health Care	1102 S I St	Tacoma	I work in the Electronic Health Records/IT dept. One of my duties is to teach new employees our system. We house in just our main training room anywhere from 1 to 12 employees at a time. I was very ill the last week of Feb with "URI and Bronchitis" (I was not tested for COVID) and was off work for 7 days. Upon my return (which would have been before the 14 day waiting period if I did contract COVID) they were still holding multiple trainings even after schools were closed. New employees were not 6 ft away from each other or the trainer. They just today stopped all training. They implemented a mandatory "Screening" prior to going to your dept at the clinics where they have COVID clinics set up intermead with the patients, which entails taking your temp, asking if you have tested positive for COVID or are living with anyone tested positive for COVID. They are not rotating employee names who they are "screening", there is no way for anyone to know who has been "screened" and who hasn't. I feel these practices disregards the order for distancing and puts myself and others at risk. We all know you can be positive with no symptoms or a carrier with no symptoms, their "screening" is ridiculous and further putting more people at risk. Last week they moved staff that were in contact with patients down to our building (which we are more secluded from the patients) to work from here, this has put my dept at further risk. There is a provider, pediatrician, that is appointed to send out COVID updates, changes, guidelines, change in workflows, etc. None if these are in relation to my dept and the precautions our Craft store operating as an "essential" business under the impression of their customers using their products for at home businesses and customers volunteering to masks. We do not keep a six foot rule, we don't properly sanitize, and we only have one janitor who doesn't always come in. I feel as though Hexcel is staying open to not pay unemployment. Every single co worker I have talked to is angry that we are all having to put not only ourselves but our children and loved ones at risk when we should be shut down like Boeing is. A lot of us feel in danger and unsafe but feel as though we are forced to go to work or we will lose our jobs and go homeless. We have lots of older workers here and we have many coworkers whose family members are in danger by being exposed. When Hexcel can't keep employees six feet away or have proper sanitation, they need to shut down. We all though once Boeing shut down, we would as well. Instead, we are all very worried and scared for our safety over company greed. With Hexcel staying open, those who need to isolate because at risk don't qualify for unemployment which is so very unacceptable to do to employees who work so hard for this company to not be treated better. Yet having higher expectations and requiring more work with the extra things the doctors are requiring. All employees are afraid of the risk they come in contact with up to 30 patients a day. Not including their co-workers who are forced to co-mingle in very small corridors. Then taking the chances of spreading this to their loved ones at home. They should be under investigation for insurance fraud with the amount of unnecessary biopsys and procedures. Taking complete advantage of their elder patients, and putting them at risk to come in for foolish follow ups. This office is cramming patients (with family member, most the time) Doctor and 1 maybe 2 medical assistance into one small exam room at very least. I am a family member of an employee, I am upset the doctors are taking advantage of their own patients, insurance companies and employees. In hopes to keep their small business afloat. Meanwhile going against ALL requirements from CDC and state governor strong suggestions. Please look into this. The doctors fault the health department to stay essential for the WRONG reasons. Pinning their expertise strictly on cancer, which is NOT the case at all. Even if skin cancer is determined, which it has been detected in weeks, it's not life or death at this exact moment. On the weekend, I counted 14 teenagers on one side of the court in very close proximity. There are others here who maintain distance, but the teenagers playing basketball show no regard. It seems that closing all the parks in this area is useless with this school playground being an apparent loophole. The school district is aware of large groups gathering here. The contact would be greatly reduced by simply closing the gate after employees left in the afternoon. I picked up food for a customer at this restaurant last Friday during the dinner rush. I witnessed around 20 to 30 drivers in a cramped area waiting for the food to be picked up. The orders I waited for ended up taking about an hour and a half. They should instead have the drivers check in by phone and phone the driver when the order is ready for pickup. It is a conflict of contract for me to cause a restaurant to close so I'd like to remain anonymous. Please have someone go to the restaurant around 6pm to have a look at the setup. I wanted to stay outside to wait but was forced to stay inside to listen for my customers names being called out. You might also want to take a look at Can Am pizza as they had a similar issue. 2125 Bel-Red Rd, Redmond, WA 98052 It would be a great idea to have someone run food out to the drivers rather than having us meet them in a potential large gathering of drivers. It would give a few more jobs and keep things safer imo.

TRUE	03/30/20 10:01 PM		AG	Eviction	Other	Storage	Public Storage	7106 20TH AVE SE	LACEY	on March 24th public storage left a notice in the form a letter on my storage informing us that we would be evicted and needed to be out no later than the 27th of this month. We are completely paid up in our bills with public storage. we have no late payments. the reason given for the eviction was that management was told that we had accessed our unit during late-night hours. This is a spurious and false claim especially with consideration to the fact we purchased a 24-hour access unit. there's no violation of a rule "being there late at night" when in our contract we've agreed it's paid in full monthly as a 24-hour access unit. This is absolutely ridiculous note left on our storage door is completely informal and has ridiculous terms that aren't even outlined in the notice. This notice of eviction gives us three days to be out on the street with everything we own. moreover I wasn't even notified until I came to pick up some of my things that the manager chose to add a note on the account that stated an added caveat - we could not pick up any of our belongings without first purchasing a moving van elsewhere. Management wouldn't even let us access the storage for clean clothes or vital records I need for my completing my application to work for IP as a state caregiver. We haven't had access to any of our belongings since March 24th.	LTHOMAS360@YAHOO.CC	Lauren Thomas	3602928296

TRUE	03/3/20 5:01 AM	Nathan Kresse	L&I DOSH	Essential business not following social distancing requirements	Other	Photo Chemical Machining	Northwest Etch	2601 South Hood Street Tacoma	This business is conducting meetings in a small room with a lot of people. They have no protocols in place for safety of the workers. That includes cleaning, social distancing, or even clear policies that are in alignment with Federal and Local guidelines. This is part of a general flouting of safety rules that makes the place extraordinarily dangerous even under the best of times, but particularly dangerous to Tacoma now. I've heard about this from various workers, all too afraid to talk about it and maybe face retribution. Frankly, I'm afraid to list my name because if they can trace this complaint back there will be problems for those they suspect.

This is a serious situation, but why is it that democrats constantly stoke hate and not kindness. For example POT houses are deemed essential but churches are not? That is so stupid. If you can have people go to a grocery store there is no reason why churches cannot put chairs farther apart and hold service. Spiritual health is just as important as physical. But of course, you democrats just hate church people. I am so tired of this constant hate, hate, hate. You should be highlighting people who are stepping up and doing the right thing - helping others. Like the group invisible hands in New York. Here in this state, if anyone even dares to help others - look out - the Gov's got a form so you can tattle on them and get them arrested. This is out of control.	loriwynd@hotmail.com	Lori

They may use some BS excuse about having a state contract... they are not working on any state work at this time and the letter they give employees says they are critical manufacturing. My husband was building a flatbed last week to haul hay to the elk... ya know, the wild animals that feed themselves. Please do something about this. We have been staying away from our children and grandchildren at home to respect social distancing and yet we may still get sick because of company greed. My health is not the best and if I contract the virus, not only may I not make it, but this could cause further unnecessary strain on our healthcare system.	locattentive@aol.com	Lisa Owens	206-280-9176

TRUE	03/31/20 10:34 AM		No Action	Non-essential business is open	Other	Moving Companies	All Moving Companies In Washington	19931 72nd ave s	Kent	There are several large to small moving companies in WA, with hundreds of workers scared for their safety as well as their families. A few have closed temporarily, some have not. A lot of us have questions regarding "essential" business. We have not seen our industry spoke of throughout all of this. We are in one of the most dangerous industries right now during this epidemic. We all want to know is this essential, and if so, how? Still daily we have crews of 4 or more people going into peoples homes to relocate them. We are to pack all the belongings, touching every single item in peoples homes, to them transport outside of the state. We have shown up to homes where people are in quarantine due to being sick, I have had a few that were positive for the virus, yet we are still made to deliver their goods into their new home. We are in front line of transmitting and transporting this virus inside and outside state lines, and 100% of us are wondering why?? The nation is on a lock down, how are you allowing people to still relocate at this time, and why are the moving companies doors still open? I am sure there is or will be more than just my email regarding this issue. Relocating residences at this time is putting hundreds of us at risk, and we are all scared to death, yet made to come to work and provide this service. I really hope you all can look into this for all of us and make the right decision. We are getting sick one by one due to being forced to ignore the social distancing rules in place.

The owner Pete Harret is operating this company under the false pretense as an automotive repair shop. We are a restoration fabrication company that specializes in ground up restoration on classic vehicles, boats, large equipment, airplane's, tugs and many more. Our shop is not allowed by law to work on late model vehicles 1980 or newer because we are not a repair facility. With all of this we had a meeting earlier last week to explain to our owner that we are not in the essential business but in the end refused to accept that and allowed us to go home with no pay and risk of no job when coming back. He also has refused to not allow outside visitation. We have photo documentation of him walking around potential clients in the shop after the governor had requested all businesses cease and desist of that. After my General Manager expressed his concern to our owner allowing outside visitors to tour around the shop my GM was let go. He has shown his lack of empathy for his employees and total disregard for the state and laws. For my fellow coworkers that are still there I fear they may be wrongfully exposed to covid-19 because the lack of regard to the law and humanity by our owner. Just prior, I had been to Target, a few blocks away. Signs posted on the front door to keep 6' or more away. Large Red dots were on the floor identifying social distance while waiting in line for the self-check register. A clerk cleaned each checkout prior to entering. All I saw Costco doing was spraying down the cart handles outside. I went into the store & found it impossible to distance myself to get bak out. I went out the entrance I came. Kennewick may not have any reports of the virus, but planes, cars & people r being transported in & out of this sweet city. I flew on an airplane w 7 passengers yesterday. 2 from Australia, 3 missionaries from out of the country and several others obviously returning home. This virus will spread & Costco, a company enjoy, really needs to take a few steps in the right direction to ensure the safety of their patrons, employees & residence. TRUE	03/31/20 2:16 PM		AG	Eviction	Landlord		The Timbers Apartments (TMG propert 608 NE 86th Street		Vancouver	Hello, A few months ago I renewed my lease for the 3rd year. I have complained to the property management company about people smoking, noise, etc. Several days after a noise complaint where I verbalized the right to peaceful enjoyment, I received a termination of tenancy on my door giving me until 4/30 to relocate. I am concerned about moving with COVID - both finding an affordable mover as well as it being very difficult to actually find a place with no one doing showings and cancelling appointments. There is also the economic problem of a significant decrease in income and needing first, last, etc. I asked them what their expectations are about this deadline, and they plan to enforce it. Can they since the termination was given before all of this started? I didn't think they could terminate after a lease was signed. (They are saying they never received it.) It has all felt like retaliation, I will move - it is just not possible under the circumstances. Thank You!	alkennedyrnp@gmail.com	Avery Kennedy	360694459

It remains open for business. Golf is NOT an essential business. Tens of golfers crowd together on the course and greens daily, clustering together, often 2 or even 3 to a cart (some carts enclosed). They laugh, drink, shout, and smoke in groups. The course is surrounded by houses, and they come right up to the edge of residential yards where kids might be playing or families could be outside. COVID 19 is spreading in Adams county. I believe it is because people here don't take it seriously. The blatant refusal of the course to close is an example of this. Golfers crowd the course 7 days a week. Golf is NOT an essential business.
TRUE	03/31/20 3:06 PM		Other Agency	Non-essential business is op	Other	Courthouse	Clark County Courthouse	1200 Franklin Street Vancouver	I have worked at the Clark County as judicial proceedings specialist Clerk in Superior Court, as Governor Inslee stated in his Stay Home Order I am aware that the Courthouse system is considered Essential. While at work we are still currently dealing with the public who have been seen visibly sick coming to the front desk as well as having them in the Courtrooms. I do not feel safe at my job right now, I feel the threat is very high to be exposed by an infected person. In the past weeks the Judge's have cut down the amount of Court hearings to only two to three dockets/hearings a day, which would mean only two to three Clerks would be required. We could appear by video or telephonically just like all of the other parties involved such as the attorneys and even the defendant are already appearing telephonically and/or by video. Every Court hearing is taped both by video and audio recording. Why is everyone being protected but the Clerks and the Judge. Since most of the Clerks are not in Court anymore which is our main job duty, it doesn't seem right that we are all still required to be in the office comparing the old paper files to the electronic files and then recycle the paper files. Which we could again do from home. We are also answering the phone to the public, which could be done at home. If we already have access to the database that we use at work why would it matter if we used the databases to work from home? What we are doing now is 100% non-essential job duties to me. If they are considered essential then we could be doing all of this remotely. I feel my safety is being compromised. Last weekend the cones were removed to let in cars and students to practice on the field.	Mandy.hill28@yahoo.com	Mandy Hill	3609071943
